Power outages – we have had a couple short outages so far this season. Here is a little thing you can do to ensure your food stays safe in the freezer while you are gone. Place an ice cube or 2 in a zip-lock bag in the freezer, check it when you have been away for a few days if the ice cube has melted and refrozen it is very likely your food has too. Be Safe! When it doubt throw it out.

Do you have any good camper tips that you would like to share?
